Attorney General John Ashcroft
US Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20530

Dear Mr. Ashcroft:

I am writing to say that I am pleased that the Justice Department and Microsoft have finally agreed upon a settlement.

Microsoft's philosophy of a computer in every home with everyone having access to the Internet at a reasonable price has made this country the most computer literate in the world. I understand this settlement will force Microsoft to make a number of specific changes to its products and business practices.

I only hope that this "government" control will not stifle Microsoft from continuing to develop new products at reasonable prices and advancing computer communication and usage.

Sincerely,
Rex Morris
